GOEBEL HOLDING HIS OWN

Respiration Decreased and Pulse Slower.

REWARD OF FIFTY THOUSAND

Offered for the Assassin—Kentuckians Willing to Take up Arms to Support Goebel Government.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Frankfort, Feb. 2—Governor Goebel passed a comfortable night and his condition today is considered better. His respiration has decreased, is more regular and his pulse slower. Dr. Welch said this morning that he wished to hold out no hopes of recovery, but the man is at least holding his own.

MILITARY SUPPORT OFFERED.

Frankfort, Feb. 2—The democratic members of the legislature this morning announced that they would meet today and offer a reward of fifty thousand dollars for the assassin of Governor Goebel. Certain individuals have volunteered the payment of the reward and offer to deposit the cash until the legislature appropriates it.

Dispatches were received this morning from various points in Kentucky which report that Kentuckians all over the state are willing to take up arms, if necessary, to sustain the Goebel government. Col. Gaither, of Harrodsburg, heretofore a strong anti-Goebel man, is willing to form a regiment. Dr Frazeo, one of the Morgan cavalry, telegraphs from Richmond, Ky., that he has enlisted fifty men in a few hours Volunteers are organizing rapidly this morning in Lexington. Scores of telegrams from other points to Goebel have been received, pledging military support None of the offers have been accepted.

WANT NO INTERFERENCE.

Washington, Feb. 2—A Kentucky delegation, consisting of Senator-elect Blackburn, Representatives Rhea, Smith, Allen, Filbert and Ex-Representative Thomps, called on President McKinley today to protest against federal interference in that state. The Kentuckians said that federal interference would be sure to result in serious trouble as the first movement of troops would cause an uprising that could not easily be quelled. Senator Blackburn, when he left the president, said the interview was satisfactory.

ORDERS CONFLICT.

Frankfort, Feb. 2 -Speaker Trimble has given notice calling the legislature to meet at five o'clock this afternoon. Governor Taylor issued orders this morning that nobody be admitted to the capitol grounds under any circumstances. The passes heretofore entitling the soldiers to go through the lines, are taken up as soon as presented. The object of the new order is to prevent any civilian from serving any legal papers upon the governor. Papers have been prepared today. The legislature will ask Judge Cantrell, of the fiscal court, to issue an injunction restraining Governor Taylor from interfering in any proceeding of the legislature. Taylor has announced that he will pay no attention to such injunction.

AN OPERATION NECESSARY

Frankfort, Feb 2—Governor Goebel will have to undergo an operation very soon for the removal of coagulated blood in the right side. Internal bleeding has stopped; otherwise his condition is unchanged.

WHITTAKER TRIES TO ESCAPE.

Constable Harrod, who took Whittaker, the alleged assassin, to Louisville, says Whittaker told him while enroute that he had $3,000 at home and $50 in his pocket which he would give if he would allow him to escape. Harrod also claims that Whittaker said he was on the third floor of the executive building when the shot was fired.

MR DUKE'S GENEROSITY.

Gives $1,000 to the Orphanage and Promises $5,000 on Conditions.

Announcement is made that Mr. B. N. Duke, of Durham, has given $1,000 to the Methodist Orphanage.

Mr. Duke has also made a conditional gift of $5,000 to the orphanage. This gift is conditioned on the ability of the Methodists in the State to raise $20,000. If that sum is secured by North Carolina Methodists Mr. Duke will give $5,000 to the institution.

Mr. Duke is one of North Carolina's most philanthropic citizens. He is a man of large means, and with his father, Mr. Washington, Duke has made large gifts to both Trinity College and the Oxford Orphanage.

Assassin May Never Be Known.

Frankfort, Feb. 2 -At police headquarters here today it was said that nothing was being done to run down Goebel's assailant. Officers said they were not in a position to do anything. Admittance to all places where information could be secured was denied them. Senator Goebel's closest friends declared they were powerless to do anything looking to the capture of his assailant. Some of them expressed a melancholy belief that the assassin would never be known.

KLUTTZ GIVES LINNEY A ROAST.

Defamer of North Carolina's Fair Name Fittingly Rebuked.

Washington, Feb. 1—Congressman Klutz in the House today delivered a speech in answer to Mr. Linney that made the ears of Republicans tingle and which stamped him as an able and vigorous debater. He could be heard all over the house as in ringing tones he defended his people from Linney's aspersions.

Mr. Griggs, of Georgia, followed Klutz and gave Linney a great castigation.

Mr. Klutz said: Mr. Chairman, yesterday when the house resolved itself into a committee of the whole for consideration of the Indian appropriation bill, my distinguished friend from North Carolina (Mr. Linney) evidently thought that the house had resolved itself into a court of appeals for consideration of the North Carolina election law, or at least into a forum for manufacturing campaign speeches for home consumption. Replying briefly to his diatribe against the people of the south in general, and the good people of North Carolina in particular, I shall add no word of sectional or personal bitterness to this discussion. Would to God, sir, that we could let dead past bury its dead, and that we could leave great questions settled by our great war where they were settled by the dread arbitrament of arms.

"In a conversation about the close of the Spanish-Cuban war which I had with the honruble chief magistrate of this great republic—a man whom, while I differ from his policies, I honor as an able, patriotic and honest American—he said to me, 'Sir, that war was worth all it cost if it had done no more than obliterate sectionalism and bring all the people of all sections of this country into a common understanding with each other once more.' It was a noble sentiment, sir, nobly expressed and worthy of the chief citizen of this great republic; and it was a sentiment to which I most ardently responded, a sentiment to which I believe the thinking people of this country, without regard to politics or sections, most heartily subscribe.

"And yet, sir, when, as my friend from North Carolina said, foreign soil is drinking up the blood of American heroes—northern born, eastern born, western born and southern born—I thank God when Fitz Lee and Joe Wheele, along with Lawton, and Otis and McArthur, have demonstrated that southern people are loyal to the flag of our fathers, and that when it is unfurled they are willing to go as far as the farthererst in defence of American rights and American liberties." (applause); "when Worth Bagley, of North Carolina, laid down his life and crimsoned the deck of his ship with his warm life-blood poured out as a libation upon the altar of his country's rights and his country's deeds; and when as volunteers, had been called for, battalions have come from the savannahs and plains and mountains of the south, and side by side, have fought with your boys from the east and north and west in upholding the honor and glory of that flag which, I thank God, waves once more over a reunited country" (applause), "when these occurrences are taking place, I hear a note of discord, and it comes, I am very sorry to say from two North Carolina republicans, in coarse, base notes, from the senate wing of the capitol and the high treble of the mountain region of North Carolina, a discordant note endeavoring to rekindle the fires of sectionalism which, thank God, had almost expired and to reopen again questions which ought to remain settled"

Mr. Klutz was rapturously applauded when he closed.

A Message from Mafeking.

London, Feb. 1—A dispatch from Mafeking, dated January 17, states that Colonel Baden-Powell sent this message to Colonel Plumer, commander of the relieving force:

"All well. We forced the enemy to remove their big guns yesterday. They still hold two strong works, which we hope to compel them to shift by the use of dynamite."

Three Killed by Runaway Cars.

Richmond, Va., Jan 31—At Betty-Baker on the Norfolk and Western railroad today, two freight cars got loose and rushed down the mountain, and collided with a pump car. Geo. Summers, A Z. Phillips and A. Surratt were killed, and Oscar Johnson was injured. These men were section hands on the pump car.

He don't think the young man, who is fifteen, had but one dollar in money and he is unable to account for not hearing from him, for he thinks if he has been walking all this time he would probably be getting tired and would write home.—Winston Sentinel.

JUDGE EWARTS CONFIRMATION.

New Postal Service and Commissions.

Special to the Telegram.

Washington, Feb. 2—The case of Judge Ewart, which is still pending before the senate committee on the judiciary, is apparently as far from settlement as when the nomination was first sent to the senate. It has been referred to a sub committee, but so far as can learned, the sub-committee has taken no action looking to reporting the nomination to the full committee and upon inquiry being made, it is not believed they will make their report for some time to come. Judge Ewart since congress convened has been a frequent visitor to Washington. He is confident of ultimate victory, as are his friends here. It is believed that a majority of both the sub-committee and the committee on the judiciary are favorable to the confirmation of Judge Ewart, and if this is the case of course a favorable report cannot be prevented, in time. There is practically no way at getting any idea of the strength of either the friends nor opposition to Ewart in the United States Senate, as the nominations are always considered by the committee in secret sessions, and the senate will not tell nor give any intimation usually as to how they will vote when a vote is reached is the senate on a nomination. It is believed that the friends of confirmation have a majority in the senate, but this is based merely on the former votes in favor of confirmation, and the recent acquisition in the senate to the republican side of the chamber.

Senator Pritchard stated the other day that he had no doubt but the nomination would be reported to the senate before long, and that it would be impossible for Senator Butler and the opposition to hold off a vote in the senate for any great length of time.

Among the callers at the white house yesterday morning was Senator Butler. The North Carolina senator stated that his visit was merely on some state matters in which some of his constituents were personally interested, and was of no state importance. The senator saw the president, and was with him for a few minutes.

Senator Butler was seen the other day and refused to say anything about the reports that his organ at Raleigh, the Caucasian, is to be converted from a weekly into a daily paper for campaign purposes on the adoption of the proposed constitutional amendment.

Representative Lamb, of the Richmond, Virginia, district, is working hard to secure a big appropriation for his district. He is disappointed at the decision of the majority of the committee on rivers and harbors not to bring in a bill this session, but hopes when a bill is brought in during the short session, which is considered a practical certainty, that he may get incorporated an appropriation for $700,000 for dredging the James river, so as to admit the large traffic which passes up and down that river at Richmond.

The North Carolina delegation hope to get some appropriations next session and it is likely that some delegations from the state later on will seek hearings before the rivers and harbors committee.

Mrs. Small, wife of Representative Small, of North Carolina, is in Washington, stopping with her husband at the Varnum Hotel. Accompanying her to Washington is Miss Annie Townsend Bragann, of North Carolina.

Although yesterday was her regular receiving day, Mrs. Marion Butler, wife of the North Carolina senator did not hold her usual reception yesterday afternoon. It is understood she will receive next week.

W. M. Liles, of Charlotte, North Carolina, is in the city on a business trip. He will be here for several days and is registered at the National hotel.

A WHOLLY NEW MOVEMENT

The Britons Will Try Again to Relieve Ladysmith

LONG DETOUR EAST OF COLENSO

Strategy Used in the Movement of Troops—The British Are Eager for an Aggressive Movement.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

London, Feb. 2—There is every indication that a wholly new movement on a big scale, is in progress for the relief of Ladysmith. The war office carefully and jealously guards the secret, but noticeable activity there day and night for the past week confirms the hint of big developments which have leaked out from high official sources. Military experts agree that the surprise is probably the movement of a force for the relief of Ladysmith by a long detour to the far east of Colenso under Gen. Kitchener by a strong corps whose organization has been kept a close official secret.

GREAT FIRE BURNING.

Modder River, Feb 1—A great fire has been raging along the Veldt since yesterday afternoon two miles in length, extends along the plain between Jacobsdal and Kodjas dam Some of the British officers believe it started at the scene of the movement of some of the forces who have been summoned eastward. The fire burned all night and it is believed that under cover of the smoke some recent reinforcements that have arrived from Magersfontein marched in the direction of Barkley west and the Komdodsberg districts.

The British, from a long range of artillery to the left, threw shells in the direction of the Boer position. The Boers shelled the British from the west for half an hour in the forenoon, probably to cover the movement referred to. Their shells hit nobody. The Boer losses, if any, are unknown. The British troops here are eager for an aggressive movement to begin.

INCITING BASUTOS.

London, Feb. 2—The Times publishes a special extra to print a dispatch from Sterkstrom stating that Boer emissaries are distributing leaflets and working throughout Basutoland to incite the tribe to rise against the British. One inducement held out to the Basutos to revolt is a promise to restore their territory to them.

London, Feb. 2—It is rumored that Lord Roberts has called for ninety thousand more troops.

Let us Preserve History.

To the officers and members of the Seventy-first Regiment, N. C. state troops (second junior reserves):

Judge Walter Clark, after years of earnest labor born of his love for the soldiers of North Carolina who made the state immortal in history, has quite completed the work of gathering and editing sketches of the regiments which constituted that soldiery. A sketch of the above regiment must be furnished him, at an early date, to secure its incorporation in the publication authorized by the legislature. The undersigned, with Captain D. E. McKinne, were chosen to prepare this sketch, but find we have not the data available for such purpose. I therefore call upon the officers and members of the old second junior to come to our aid and enable us to have recorded in permanent form a sketch that will at least convey to those who are to come after knowledge of our participation in that glorious cause.

The regimental officers were John H. Anderson, colonel; Wm. F. Beasley, lieutenant colonel; N. A. Gregory, major.

The companies were from Cleveland, Gaston, Burke, Mecklenburg and Rowan, Cabarrus, Duplin, Pitt, Wilson, Wayne, Edgecombe, Sampson, Hyde and perhaps some others. Moore's Roster only gives three of the companies, and we must now call upon those surviving to aid in completing, so far as may be, the record.

Photographs of officers and men, taken during the war or immediately thereafter, are also wanted.

We will thank any officer or member of the old second junior for any information, of membership or incidents It is upon such assistance entirely that we must depend for having the regiment properly represented in the history now being prepared by Judge Clark. Communications may be addressed to Captain Dave E. McKinne, Princeton, Johnston county, or to

TO REMOVE ALL DOUBT.

New Section Will be Added to the Amendment.

Chairman Simmons, who has just returned to the city from Newbern, says the News and Observer, was seen last night by a reporter and asked what he thought of Judge Brown's suggestion with reference to a change in the amendment, at the adjourned session of the legislature in June.

"The essential object of the amendment," said Mr. Simmons, "is to take the ballot from the hands of the ignorant negro, and at the same time forever secure and protect the uneducated white man in his right to vote. There must not be, and there will not be any modification in the amendment which could change in the slightest particular this main and essential purpose. On the other hand, and for the same reason, any change which will more effectually accomplish and secure this purpose will not only be unobjectionable but wise."

Continuing, Mr. Simmons said: "Judge Brown's suggestion is not a new idea at all The subject of consolidating the 4th and 5th sections of the amendment and adding words which will express the well-known legislative intent that all the amendment shall stand or fall together so as to leave nothing to construction, had been the discussion among democrats for the last two months. Indeed, ever since the opponets of the amendment began their demagogical attempt to deceive and scare the uneducated white voters by telling them that the 4th section would be stricken from the amendment without carrying it with the 4th section"

The chairman said he had personally discussed this subject from time to time during the past two months with many prominent democrats and with leading members of the press and with many members of the state executive committee and of both branches of the legislature. Among the members of the legislature with whom he had discussed it he mentioned Judge Connor, speaker of the house; Senator M H. Justice, president pro-tem of the senate; Messrs. Walter E. Moore, F. D. Winston, Herriott Clarkson, Judge Allen, Jas. A. Bryan, and F. I. Osborne. He also said that about two weeks ago, at Lenoir court, he had discussed it with Judge Brown, and it was the opinion of every one with whom he spoke upon the subject that while the content of the amendment made it clear that it was the intent of the legislature that the 4th and 5th sections were conditioned the one upon the other, and that the one would not have been adopted without the other, and hence the courts would have to sustain both or neither, yet, as the opponents of the amendment were by misrepresentations, trying to dliver the minds of the people from the real issue, and raise groundless doubts and fears in the minds of the uneducated white voters, it would be proper and wise to absolutely remove all such doubts and fears, and answer all such demogogical attempts to deceive and mislead by writing in the amendment the manifest intent of the legislature that the 4th and 5th sections should stand or fall together.

"I am satisfied," said Mr. Simmons, "from the unanimity of opinion on this subject, expressed by every democrat and member of the legislature with whom I have talked, that the democratic state convention, when it meets in April, will request the legislature at its adjourned session in June to add to the amendment such words as will remove all possible doubt, if any exists, in the mind of any one on this subject, and that the change will be made by the legislature, when it meets in June, by a practically unanimous vote on the part of the democrats "Of course," he said, "I cannot say what will be the course of the republican and populist members in the legislature with reference to this proposed change, but I suppose that populist members will vote for it because they voted for the amendment when it was submitted, and if the republicans do not vote for it will show conclusively that all their clamor upon this subject was a subterfuge and a fraud."

Mr. Simmons added, "There is no legal necessity for any such change, because, as I said before, the context of the amendment shows that these two are inseparably linked together as one single scheme of suffrage, and undoubtedly the courts would have to so hold. But we are willing to remove every possible doubt or suggestion of a doubt from the mind of every white man. It is the fixed purpose of the democratic party that no white man, however poor or unlettered he may be, shall under any circumstances whatever lose his vote, and we wish to make this purpose so plain that the enemies of the amendment will not be able by misrepresentation, to muddy the issue."

Prevented a Tragedy.

Timely information given Mrs. George Long, of New Straitsville, O., prevented a dreadful tragedy and saved two lives. A frightful cough had kept her awake every night. She tried many remedies and doctors but steadily grew worse until urged to try Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle cured her, and she writes this marvelous medicine also cured Mr. Long of a severe attack of pneumonia. Such cures are positive proof of the matchless merit of this grand remedy for curing all throat, chest and lung troubles. Only 50c and $1 00. Every bottle guaranteed. Trial bottles free at C. E. FRIDAY, FEB. 2, 1900.

The Kentucky situation is most deplorable. Affairs there have taken a turn which creates a stronger Goebel sentiment throughout the country. He was shot down while peacefully pushing his claim to the office of governor of the state, and the assassin's bullet sped to its mark from one of the windows of the executive building in which are the offices of the opposing faction. It looks significant, and much explanation will be necessary to dispel the feeling that the shooting was "a party measure."

The late North Carolina Conference adopted a resolution appointing February as "Advocate Month," the object being to make a strong pull for the Raleigh Christian Advocate during this month. The Advocate issues a handsome supplement this week which is headed: "A Grand Rally for our paper." It contains an attractive premium list and will be a strong lever in adding a large number of subscribers. We heartily wish the paper all it hopes for.

To say nothing of the ability to read and write, a race which has not learned the first law of nature—self preservation—should not be entrusted with the right to vote and to say by their votes how the more intelligent shall govern themselves. It would take a standing army as large as England's present forces against the Boers (the largest she has ever had in any war) armed with Gatling guns, to keep the negroes of North Carolina from speading smallpox. The legal authority necessary to keep white people quarantined is only a temptation to the negro to go where he pleases. There are exceptions, of course, but we speak of the average negro, the fellows who form the bulk of republican voters.

Of the newly elected editor of the Telegram, the Charlotte Observer this morning says:

It was stated in our Greensboro special yesterday that the Telegram Company, of that city, has been reorganized. We are advised that as a result of the change Mr. R. F. Beasley, now editor of the Monroe Journal, will, on the 15th inst,, become editor of the Telegram. Upon this acquisition we cordially congralulate that paper and its readers. Mr. Beasley is a man of education and cultivation, of well balanced judgment, and we speak with deliberation in saying that he is one of the very ablest editors in the state. The columns of his paper attest this fact from week to week, and the readers of the Observer, to which he is an occasional contributor, know with what force and finish he can write. He is well furnished for the duties of the wider field upon which he is about entering, and in it he will gild his already established reputation as a writer and as a man of sense, equipoise, conservatism and moral courage.

SUCCESS OF A NOBLE WORK.

From the Mercantile and Financial Times of New York.

For many years the drink and drug habits were regarded by the medical profession and the public generally as absolutely incurable, and this opinion of the great evil continued until it was finally proved erroneous by the successful application of the now well known Keely cure, a system of remedial reformation that has been given a practical demonstration in thousands of cases and which has restored to usefulness and an honorable career many of the brightest minds in the country—men whose weakness and inability to cope with the monster drink needed just such help as this affords, thereby being lifted from the slough of despondency and degradation into which they had fallen and placed once more on an equal footing with their fellow men. Too much praise cannot be given to a system that will bring this to pass, and it is now conceded that the Keely cure does it

Among the most successful of the various institutions devoted to the noble work referred to is the Keely Institute, located at No. 211 North Capitol street, Washington, D. C., and noteworthy as the only authorized establishment of the kind in the District of Columbia and the State of Maryland, and the Keely Institute at Greensboro, North Carolina, both of which control exclusive rights to the use of the cure in their respective localities.

The Washington institution is admirably managed and has wrought commendable work in fulfilling its mission, numbering among those whom it has saved from the wretchedness of inebriety some of the best known and now most esteemed gentlemen residing within its territory, and many from a distance. The institution is quiet and homelike, patients being provided with every convenience and comfort while undergoing the cure, and it is located in one of the most desirable residential sections of the capital City. The Keely system has been practiced with success for a period of twenty years It has been administered in all parts of the United States, and it has proved an unlimited blessing in its particular field of good. A very small percentage of those undergoing the treatment ever return to the habit from which they are thereby rescued and the cure is equally effective whether the sufferer seeks relief from the use of opium, morphine, cocaine or simply the ordinary liquor evil.

The Washington establishmen ranks among the best of the Keely Institutes and well deserves the success which has attended its efforts. It is admirably conducted, the attendance and service being perfect, and certain cure is accomplished under conditions that are well worthy of favorable comment.

The same can be said of the Greensboro Institution, which has been in successful operation for more than eight years, and has treated in that time upwards of 2,500 persons from nearly every state in the Union and Canada. It is one of the larger of the Keely Institutes in the country and certainly one of the most successful. It is a large, well appointed establishment, having accommodations for fifty patients at one time, and its capacity is generally fully taken. The two institutions are owned and controlled by a corporation with a capital of $200,000.

The president is Colonel W. H. Osborn, in charge of the Greensboro Institution, and serving with him on the board of directors are such well known southern gentlemen as Messrs. George W. Watts, Leo D. Heart, A. K. Umstead and the Rev. Alexander Walker. Colonel W. G. Haskell is the resident manager of the Washington establishment, and his efforts on its behalf, have, and are meeting with marked success. He has been officially connected with Keeley institutes of the country for the past eight years. He took charge of the one at Washington about two years ago, and, as stated, has made a great success of it. During that time several hundred patients have been successfully treated.—From a Staff Correspondent.

The Best Medicine For Rheumatism

"I think I would go crazy with pain were it not for Chamberlain's Pain Balm," writes Mr. W. H. Stapleton, Hermanie, Pa. SALT RHEUM CURED BY Johnston's Sarsaparilla

QUART BOTTLES.

JUST SEEN IN TIME.

Slight Skin Eruptions are a Warning of Something More Serious to Come. The Only Safe Way is to Heed the Warning. Johnston's Sarsaparilla is the Most Powerful Blood Purifier Known.

Nature, in her efforts to correct mistakes, which mistakes have come from careless living, or it may be from ancestors, shoots out pimples, blotches and other imperfections on the skin, as a warning that more serious troubles (perhaps tumors, cancers, erysipelas or pulmonary diseases) are certain to follow if you neglect to heed the warning and correct the mistakes.

Many a lingering, painful disease and many an early death has been avoided simply because these notes of warning have been heeded and the blood kept pure by a right use of JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA.

Miss Abbie J. Rande, of Marshall, Mich., writes:

"I was cured of a bad humor after suffering with it for five years. The doctors and my friends said it was salt rheum. It came out on my head, neck and ears, and then on my whole body. I was perfectly raw with it. What I suffered during those five years, is no use telling. Nobody would believe me if I did. I tried every medicine that was advertised to cure it. I spent money enough to buy a house. I heard JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA highly praised. I tried a bottle of it. I began to improve right away, and when I had finished the third bottle I was completely cured. I have never had a touch of it since. I never got any thing to do me the least good till I tried JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA. I would heartily advise all who are suffering from humors or skin disease of any kind to try it at once. I had also a good deal of stomach trouble, and was run down and miserable, but JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA made me all right."

The blood is your life and if you keep it pure and strong you can positively resist disease or face contagion fearlessly. JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA never fails. It is for sale by all druggists, in full quart bottles at only one dollar each.

Foul-Smelling Catarrh.

Catarrh is one of the most obstinate diseases, and hence the most difficult to get rid of.

There is but one way to cure it. The disease is in the blood, and all the sprays, washes and inhaling mixtures in the world can have no permanent effect whatever upon it. Swift's Specific cures Catarrh permanently, for it is the only remedy which can reach the disease and force it from the blood

Mr. B. P. McAllister, of Hardsburg, Ky., had Catarrh for years. He writes:

"I could see no improvement whatever, though I was constantly treated with sprays and washes, and different inhaling remedies—in fact, I could feel that each winter I was worse than the year previous.

"Finally it was brought to my notice that Catarrh was a blood disease, and after thinking over the matter, I saw it was unreasonable to expect to be cured by remedies which only reached the surface. I then decided to try S. S. S., and after a few bottles were used, I noticed a perceptible improvement. Continuing the remedy, the disease was forced out of my system, and a complete cure was the result. I advise all who have this dreadful disease to abandon their local treatment, which has never done them any good, and take S. S. S., a remedy that can reach the disease and cure it."

To continue the wrong treatment for Catarrh is to continue to suffer. Swift's Specific is a real blood remedy, and cures obstinate, deep-seated diseases, which other remedies have no effect whatever upon. It promptly reaches Catarrh, and never fails to cure even the most aggravated cases.

S.S.S. For The Blood is Purely Vegetable, and is the only blood remedy guaranteed to contain no dangerous minerals.

WINE OF CARDUI

Woman's Crowning Virtue.

BELTON, MO., July 27.

For years I suffered terrible pains every month and my doctor told me I could not be cured except by an operation. I felt I could not submit to that and was so despondent I had given up all hopes of a cure. My husband insisted on my trying Wine of Cardui and at last thank God I did try it. Last month I did not have a pain, and did all my work, which I had not done in seven years.

MRS. MINNIE LITTLE.

McELREE'S Wine of Cardui

Modesty is the crowning virtue of American women. It is the trait that all mankind admires. A modest woman is the most pleasing of all created things. Because of this becoming virtue thousands of women prefer to suffer untold miseries rather than confide their troubles to a physician, and to even think of submitting to an examination is revolting. They can't get their own consent to an operation. Wine of Cardui permits sensitive women to retain their modesty. With it they can cure "female troubles" in the quiet of their own rooms. If special treatment is required they can write to the Advisory Department of the Chattanooga Medicine Co., and their letters will be promptly answered by women trained in the cure of womanly weaknesses and irregularities. There should be no hesitation. Delayed treatment means a chronic condition. The longer postponed the harder to cure.

An Editor's Life Saved by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

During the early part of October, 1896, I contracted a bad cold, which settled on my lungs and was neglected until I feared that consumption had appeared in an incipient state. I was constantly coughing and trying to expel something which I could not. I became alarmed and after giving the local doctor a trial bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the result was immediate improvement, and after I had used three bottles my lungs were restored to their healthy state.—B. THE WONDERFUL HANDS of a MAGICIAN

This is a story of hands. Not of hands cast in fashion's mold, nor the hands distorted and hardened by manual labor. Nor yet of hands remarkable for their great strength. It is the story of the hands of the most famous magician of the present day. Leon Herrmann is to lovers of magic, and the world over, known as the Great Herrmann. He has acquired to a great extent during his short life of 33 years the finesse his art needs. He has acquired that finesse by long hours of assidious practice, and he has succeeded so well that he is accepted as the master in that field. Eighteen years ago a slender, thin-faced boy with dark eyes and a Mephisto nose stood before a mirror in a little room on the Rue Montmartre in Paris. His door was locked. No prying eye could see him at his work. The neighbors, who thought him crazy, were barred. The youth was Leon Herrmann, and the mirror was his audience. It is pretty hard to deceive a mirror, either in the matter of bad looks, or bad tricks, face or fingers. Yet young Herrmann for one solid year tried day after day to deceive that mirror with his hands. But the mirror, with the image of Herrmann in it, saw everything, and the boy, a conjurer even at that age, was dissatisfied with it. It would not be deceived. So one of those sharp-featured, chattering street gamins of Paris was lured into the room on the Rue Montmartre one day. Herrmann was only fourteen. His audience was one of the same age. The young magician put forth the charm of his magic and the beggar boy, thinking him the devil, called upon the Virgin for protection and fled precipitately. The mirror had faithfully revealed faults, but the street urchin had not detected them. Then the youth with the Mephisto nose felt encouraged. He went to work again. But he let the mirror severely alone and devoted himself to his acquaintances. There is nothing so gullible as the man who wants to be gulled. There is none so blind as he who will not see. Herrmann found out this truth even at that early age. That is the beginning of the story of the hands. But it is not the real beginning either. Heredity saw to that. Young Herrmann's father was a conjurer and so were two of his uncles. At the early age of eight years he was taken in hand by his father to acquire his father's skill in magic. What he saw him do and what he was shown he continually practiced. Magicians are born not made. The hands began their development when the owner was still a child. Little muscles were brought out, strengthened and made more pliant. The six years that elapsed between his apprenticeship and his appearance before the ragged urchin, had brought that development to a marvelous state of physical perfection. And, too, there are little hollows left here and there amid the muscles, hollows in which coins, oranges, billiard balls, rabbits, pigeons and other things may be concealed to be conjured into visible existence by Mr. Herrmann whenever he chooses. Notice a picture in which the back of the hand is visible and the fingers are apart naturally, the hand itself being as flat as a pancake, the thumb outstretched. There seems to be no means of holding anything in the flat palm. But a Roetgen ray applied would disclose the presence of a large billiard ball snuggled safely in the palm. Then with what might be termed an ordinarily slow motion of the hand, the necromancer can cause the ball to disappear practically before one's eyes. In another position Mr. Herrmann's outstretched hand, with its fingers close together and its thumb sticking up looks to an audience from the standpoint of a camera, empty and perfectly natural. Yet it contains not only one but three billiard balls. They are held by specially developed muscles at the base of the thumb and little finger. Mr. Herrmann stretched out his right hand, its back to the camera. It was innocent looking enough, but it held two silver dollars. Most people can do these tricks, said Mr. Herrmann, it is not hard to hold your hand perfectly still in a stiff, ungraceful way and palm silver dollars. But it is more difficult to be able to hold your hand naturally to turn it thus and show the silver dollar in it, then turn it on edge again and, presto! the silver dollar is gone. Mr. Herrmann turned his palm with a silver dollar in it to the camera. It did not look difficult to do, but one finds on attempting it that there is no margin left for either unstudied grace or conversation. There is an abnormally developed hollow in the palm of the wizard's hand. It amounts almost to an excavation. It is hardly large enough to conceal a rabbit, yet it apparently suffices even for this. In most hands this hollow is supposed to denote avariciousness. In Leon Herrmann's it is simply an abiding place for craft. A reader of hands would call the necromancer's palm a remarkable one for its lines. They are zig-zag from thumb to little finger, and are criss-crossed in every direction. But the life line is long and pronounced. This is a comforting sign to palmists. Herrmann may by some sleight of hand yet cheat the grasp of death. Mr. Herrmann's hands are beautiful hands. They are not full of knots and lumps. The cords are not to prominent; the skin is soft. They are quick, graceful, dexterous. They can place a silver dollar upon your palm, and by simply turning it over, change it into a $20 gold piece. Then as quickly make it silver again, and standing at a distance of four feet from the magician you are more puzzled as to the how of their manipulation than you were from the orchestra.

Can be heard by going to the court house tomorrow night. The Graphophone-Grand does not only produce sound, but it produces it just as it was played. The house will be thoroughly heated, so be on hand, so as not to miss a single selection. Tickets on sale at Grissom & Fordham's drug store.

It was also ordered that a pest house be erected in which to confine all colored persons having smallpox and that Dr Gerran, colored, be employed to attend to them.

Mr. Poplin and Miss Church were married at the home of the bride in Archdale Wednesday night, Rev. Mr. Roach officiating

Reduced rates have been secured to the state meeting of the Junior Order to be held at Durham the latter part of this month.

Since Dr. Wertenbaker's visit here yesterday, everything has quieted down considerably and there is reason to believe that in a few days things will be running along as smoothly as before.

Another case of smallpox is reported this evening, but as yet has not been pronounced so. Marshall Lindsay, colored, is the victim.

His First Appearance.

Leon Herrmann, the third of that famous family to attain prominence as a magician, will appear at the Academy of Music next Tuesday evening, February 6. This will be the first appearance in this city of Leon, the latest and last of the Herrmanns, and the only member of that famous family now before the public. As his predecessors before him assumed the title of "Herrmann the Great" and gave that title a trade mark of value, so has Leon assumed the same title, and planted it more firmly in the affections of theatre goers, as representing the premier magical entertainer of the world. The critics have said that not only is Leon entitled to that appellation, but he should be called the greatest Herrmann of them all.

No more marvellous exponent of the Black Art has been seen in this country. His feats of legerdemain are all new and positively present not only the virtues of a novelty, but are mysterious and non-explainable besides. Among illusions to be presented here are the "Mysterious Tub of Neptune," "The Golden Butterfly" and the "Maid of the Moon." "Solaret," the remarkable spectacular dancer, is also a member of the company. She will present for this engagement five of her beautiful dances which, are new and have never before been seen in this city.

The four Lucifers, well and favorably known as musicians of excellence, will play a number of difficult, classical and popular selections on numerous musical instruments. A member of the quartette is Mr. J. R. Lucifer, who is totally blind, and who has mastered, being denied the sense of sight, the sense of touch, so important a factor to musicians who aspire to the higher plane of music.

Sold by C. E Holton, druggist.

Went to Jail.

A. Savery, a citizen of Winston, refused to be vaccinated and was fined $60 which he refused to pay. He then refused to give bond and was sent to jail. There is talk to the effect that he will sue the city. But the work of compulsory vaccination goes merrily on.
